

NEV MARAJ

Nev is a highly skilled Executive Assistant with extensive experience supporting senior leaders across diverse industries. Known for her attention to detail, discretion and proactive approach, Nev brings a calm and confident presence to fast-paced executive environments.

She currently supports our team through her role as a Virtual Executive Assistant with BELAY, where she partners with C-level clients to deliver high-quality administrative support. In this capacity, Nev has quickly earned the trust of our leadership by anticipating needs, managing priorities with precision and consistently delivering exceptional results.

Nev's earlier career includes roles in office administration and client services, where she developed her strong organizational skills, professional communication style and ability to manage competing priorities with efficiency and grace.

Her commitment to excellence and collaborative approach make her a valued member of our team and an essential contributor behind the scenes.

